

Model selection and fast rates for regularized least-squares

A. Caponnetto, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, USA

Abstract

We present some new results concerning the problem of model selection for regularized least-squares on a reproducing kernel Hilbert space. Optimal rates for the relevant minimax problem are described in terms of spectra of integral operators. We also highlight possible applications to the setting of semi-supervised learning and multi-task learning.